Definition-

The Government of Punjab, in keeping with the spirit of the empowerment of Women-Headed Households, is committed to ensure protection of the rights of women-headed households and to provide equal opportunities to enable their full and effective participation and inclusion in society, through several ongoing and new initiatives and programmes. As per Census 2011, women constitute 47.23% of total population of the State as compared to 48.5% at the national level. The total population of Punjab is 2.7 crore, out of which, males number 1.4 crores and females number 1.3 crore.

1.0 Context

Women's empowerment refers to the action of raising the status of women through awareness, education, training and equal opportunity everywhere. Women's empowerment is thus about equipping women to make life-determining decisions for themselves. As per Census 2011, women constitute 47.23% of total population of the State as compared to 48.5% at the national level. The total population of Punjab is 2.7 crore, out of which, males number 1.4 crores and females number 1.3 crore.

1.1 The Government of Punjab is committed to the empowerment of women in the State. It has already taken many initiatives for women, through special schemes and policies. The reservation for women in the Panchayats and Urban Local Bodies has been increased to 50 per cent. Likewise, the reservation of women in government jobs has been raised to 33 percent.

2.0 'Household', 'head of a household', Women-headed Household (WHH)

A 'household' is usually understood to be a group of persons who normally live together and eat their meals out of a common kitchen unless the exigencies of work prevent any of them from doing so. The head of a household is a person who is chiefly responsible for managing the affairs of the household and taking decisions on behalf of the household. In case of an absentee de jure 'head', the person on whom the responsibility of managing the affairs of the household rests, is regarded as the head, irrespective of whether the person is male or female.

Punjab has 54,86,851 households, (Census 2011) out of which 7,96,030 households are headed by women. The objective of this new policy is to empower Women headed Households(WHH) in Punjab. Women-headed households are those in which an adult female is the sole or main income earner and decision-maker.

3.0 Survey for the identification of Women headed Households (WHHs)

A survey shall be carried out for the identification of Women headed Households (WHHs) in the State because Census 2011 data is more than 9 years old and it will be another 2-3 years before the data collected in the forthcoming Census will become available. The Government has already sanctioned Rs. 80 lakh, to enable data collection from an estimated 8 lakh women-headed households across Punjab. This shall be carried out by the Department of SSWCD through Anganwari Workers (AWWs) who would be given Rs. 10 per household for data collection. An online application would also be enabled where an individual can submit information to be verified by the concerned Child Development Project Officer (CDPO).

4.0 Mata Tripta Mahila Yojna (MTMY)

A programme for the empowerment, protection and well-being of women-headed households, named Mata Tripta Mahila Yojna (MTMY) shall be implemented in the State.

The aim of the programme shall be to provide services, benefits, rights and protection in respect of health care, education, employment, safety and dignity in all spheres of life, from birth onwards, a;; the way into the sunset years.

4.1 Eligibility criteria for Women Headed Households (WHH) for the purpose of empowerment schemes:

The head of the household must be a widow/ deserted woman/ separated woman/ divorced woman/ unmarried woman and she must be the sole earning member in the family.

The eligibility criteria of each scheme under which benefits would be given to WHHs shall be applicable to such beneficiaries.

4.2 Objectives of the New Programme:

1. To create an enabling environment for the holistic development of women-headed households (WHHs) so that they may lead a life of dignity.
2. To ensure economic empowerment of women from WHH to realise their rights and gender equality.

3. To improve the access to healthcare, quality education, skill development, employment and social security benefits for women from women-headed households.

5.0 Economic Empowerment of Women:

Empowering women in the economy and closing gender gaps in the world of work are key to achieving the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. The economic empowerment of women is central to realizing women's rights and gender equality. It includes women's ability to participate equally in all spheres; their access to and control over productive resources, access to suitable work, control over their own time, lives and bodies; and increased voice, agency and meaningful participation in economic decision-making at all levels.

Economic empowerment is essential for the achievement of Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), particularly Goal 5, to achieve gender equality, and Goal 8, to promote full and productive employment and decent work for all; and also Goal 1 on ending poverty, Goal 2 on food security, Goal 3 on ensuring health and Goal 10 on reducing inequalities.

Thus, the stepping stones on the path to economic empowerment are: addressing poverty, improving women's visibility and recognition of women's work. This can be done by:

- increasing women's access to financial services and putting in place a simplified procedure for loans by which they can access institutional finance as individuals and not merely as dependents.
- getting banks to adopt a single window approach to overcome the procedural and other barriers faced by women in accessing loans.
- drawing women beneficiaries from the poorest of marginalized sections including disabled, women and women-headed households.

5.1 Self-Help Groups/Women Cooperatives

Financial literacy programmes shall be rolled out to achieve financial inclusion. Women belong to WHHs will be taught the basics of banking, saving, investing and the like, so that they may create assets over time and rescue their families from financial stress.

This shall be done in partnership with Department of Rural Development and Panchayats, Punjab Skill Development Mission, Department of Cooperation, Department of Social Security, Women and Child Development and R-SETIs run by Lead Banks.
